1988 Moody 376 | Versatile Cruiser, Two Cabins, Liveaboard Ready | PRICE REDUCED

The Moody 376, a standout design from Bill Dixon and built by Marine Projects, was ahead of its time in maximising onboard space and comfort. Renowned for its versatility, this yacht is perfect for liveaboard adventures, long-distance cruising, or even as a holiday escape. Backed by a 2023 survey and rig check, it offers reassurance alongside its exceptional sailing pedigree.

Powered by a Volvo Penta 43hp engine and supported by a comprehensive electrical setup, including solar panels and a Victron charging system, the Moody 376 is as efficient as it is reliable. Its sail inventory includes a slab-reefed mainsail, roller furling genoa, and a cruising chute, catering to a variety of sailing conditions. On deck, the spray hood and bimini, both new in 2021, ensure added comfort and protection during your journeys.

Below deck, the Moody 376 shines with spacious accommodation for up to seven people. Two private cabins, a passage berth, and convertible saloon seating offer flexible arrangements. The master cabin features an ensuite head, while the forward cabin enjoys its own dedicated heads. Practicality meets comfort with a well-equipped U-shaped galley, Isotherm fridge (2023), and ample storage throughout. Whether at sea or docked, this Moody 376 is ready to provide comfort, performance, and lasting memories.
